

Note: as the calibrated stick values are in the range  $-1024 \rightarrow 1024$ , 200 represents about 10% of the range of the input. The constant values 200-800 represent an increases of about 10%.

Note that the constants representing the frequency/length values etc do not need to be constants. Try using other calibrated stick values, or adding stick values together!